

Welcome address to exhibitors and visitors to the Russian Week of High Technologies 2020

On behalf of the Russian Chamber of Commerce and Industry I would like to welcome exhibitors, visitors and organisers of the Russian Week of High Technologies.

Today the development of information technologies and telecommunications is one of the top state tasks. The modern world can no longer be imagined without mobile communications or the Internet, and the quality of services provided depends on both the standard of living of the population and the pace of digital infrastructure modernization and the growth of the country's economy. The Russian Week of High Technologies has formed an effective platform for multisectoral networking, where the latest Russian and foreign high-tech developments are presented, and discussions with government officials, business and expert community on topical issues of digital transformation of the Russian economy are held.

I am positive that the Russian Week of High Technologies 2020 will be a notable event that will make a significant contribution to solving the strategic task of creating and operating a digital economy in our country.

Let me wish all its participants productive work, interesting and constructive discussions.
